“Just Keep Swimming...”

Hello Students, Parents, and Holy Angels Community:

As we hear the news that the staycation in our homes will be extended, we need to dig deep and find the gifts of fortitude and perseverance which are given to us through our faith. We can draw strength from understanding these two words. Each week I will send along some wisdom and resources I have discovered through what I have read or experienced keeping in mind that the well being of each person in our community is what is most important. When you think about it using coping strategies when under stress is not a new concept to any of us.

As we navigate the strange reality of being connected while being isolated, be mindful.

Health: These are the non-negotiables: sleeping, eating and

Tuition

If you find yourself having difficulty making your final tuition payment, please contact Mrs. Sadowski. She will work with you.

Schoolspeak

While we are able to send information out to you via Schoolspeak, the REPLY feature does not work for you to respond. Please use your personal email account to create a new email if you need to contact a teacher or turn work in.

Free Books

audible.com is offering a selection of free books for kids to listen to while school is closed.

Angel Wings

We haven't made any definitive decisions yet about Angel Wings. This is one of those programs that was never designed for us to do remotely from home. However, Mrs. Lentz and Mrs. Smith are working on a plan to sell what we currently have in stock. When I know more details, I will let you know.

Registration

Please use your Schoolspeak account to reregister for next year, if you haven't already done so.

moving.

SLEEP-Keep a reasonable bed time and all devices out of the bedroom one hour before sleep. Children need to sleep 8-10 hours per night.

EAT-Eating healthy can be easy. There are very yummy options that are simple and healthy. Make a list for the week to have at least one healthy snack per day for example: Monday: Smoothie Tuesday: unsweetened applesauce with cinnamon sugar etc. Keep meals simple and balanced as well. Everyone should plan and prepare a meal for the family.

MOVE-walk/ride/skate together everyday and take the same route two times and try to notice 3 different things the second time. Follow the e-lessons from Mrs. Wagner.

E-Learning:

Set up a new special space/desk preferably by a window to do your work. It can be temporary. Be near brightness and sunshine.

BE PATIENT and remember that never before have we had to figure out, learn so quickly, experiment, bumble a bit and maybe even fail at anything in our lives at such a rapid pace. This includes everyone especially you....and teachers too. If you are feeling overwhelmed, please communicate with your teachers or me. We will work it out but continuing to learn and stay engage is necessary.

Emotions:

None of this is normal for us and we don't need to pretend that it is. We are feeling confused, scared, angry and distracted. Do your best and control what you can...refer to 'Health' above. Plan to FaceTime friends or family you are not able to visit. It gives you something to look forward to and it's fun.

Humor:

There is humor in any human condition. All you need to do is scroll through some Memes or Tik Toks to see how very clever some people are. Don't forget to laugh. Every day I try to find 3+ and an LOL. That means I recognize three positives from the day and one thing that made me laugh. Ultimately the positives are usually very simple happenings that I would not have noticed in a day. It is lovely.

Gratitude means that everything you have is just enough...

"Yesterday is history, tomorrow is a mystery, but today is a gift.

That is why it is called the present.” -Kung Fu Panda
How is today a present for you?

Please reach out to me by e-mail and I will set up a chat. I would love to talk to you and catch up or sort out what is challenging you.

Most of all, know that I am thinking of each of you and praying my heart out that you are well and embracing your situation the very best that you can.
